Build Your Own Bird

Birds have beaks, wings, feathers, and interesting feet. Each of these features helps a bird to survive in its habitat.

WHAT YOU NEED

paper, colored pencils or crayons

WHAT YOU DO

It's your turn to design a bird.

Where does your bird live—
the Arctic, jungle, desert, forest,
or near the water?

What does it eat?

Does it build a nest?

Think about what kinds of beak, wings, feathers,
and feet it needs to survive in that environment.

Now, draw your bird.

Keep in mind the different features it needs.

After you draw a picture of it, write about it.

Describe the habitat and your bird's special adaptations.

Maybe it even has a special song or call to communicate.

Does it build a nest?

Don't forget to name your bird!
